

about

Hannah, Fully is a literary and lifestyle blog by Hannah. It was established in November 2012 as Bookwyrming Thoughts before rebranding in 2025.

This blog is a safe space for her to share her passions with others and for her to be Hannah, fully. As such, she seeks to consume media featuring Asians by Asians and tries to incorporate this in her content.

let's work together

I mostly specialize in blog features and product reviews about books, blogging, and journaling/stationery. I occasionally cover cozy/cute video games and Asian media.

While I read across a variety of genres, I mostly read fantasy and contemporary currently.
